

SAVING OUR SPECIES

Denman pomaderris

Pomaderris reperta

Critically endangered

Photo: Pomaderris reperta plant growing in the wild

Denman pomaderris

Pomaderris reperta

Field identification guide

- Grows only within a few areas near Denman in the Muswellbrook Shire Local Government Area
- There are no more than 1000 known plants in the wild

Flowers

- Cream to yellow in colour
- Flower clusters are at the end of stems
- Flowers in the spring (September to November)

Habitat

- Small shrub typically 1.0 to 2.5 metres in height
- Often grows in small groups
- Associated soil is a sandy loam on sandstone or conglomerate

Leaves

- Broadly oval with velvety short hairs
- Underside is pale green

